
The School for Life was published in October 2011 and contains a broad selection of the educational writings of N.F.S. Grundtvig (1783-1872). Grundtvig produced a major body of work in the fields of theology, education, literature, politics, and history. He was also a poet, a hymn-writer, and a translator, but it is his educational writings that over the years have attracted international attention, from the USA to Japan. In recognition of his influence, the European Union called its adult education project the Grundtvig programme. The texts included in School for Life vary in form from poems and songs to articles in periodicals, introductions to books, an open letter to the Norwegians and a private letter to the King of Denmark. These texts, taken together, will provide a solid basis for international scholars without knowledge of Danish to be able to work closely with Grundtvig’s ideas on education for the people. The book is accompanied by a CD (MP3 format) with the texts read by Edward Broadbridge and the introductions by Clay Warren.
